Unleash the Performance Potential of your Organisation

with Bill Nelson

In this half-day hands-on interactive workshop, discover how to better understand and utilise the building blocks of organisational performance... leadership, teamwork, culture & personal performance.

Work with Bill to break down these four areas into applicable and comprehensible solutions that will optimise all aspects of organisational potential - strategic, systematic and human.

The result? A more efficient, productive, high-performing organisation.

Bill will share expertise gained over more than 30 years of turning potential into performance - first as elite sporting coach, then consulting to companies such as Apple, Fairfax Media, KPMG and Glaxo Smith Kline.
